IMMENSE CROWD ENJOYS BIG HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION

Royal Arcanum Float Adjudged Best—Firemen Receive One First Prize

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS MADE

Cash Given to Finest and Most Comically Attired Persons—Woman Suffrage Organization Makes Splendid Showing.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended any sort of celebration was present Monday evening to enjoy the events of Halloween. Hundreds came masked to join the gay crowds and others came simply to look on. The celebration was one of the best, everything considered of the several that Charleroi has held.

Early in the evening the hobgoblins and the Charley Chaplins, the gay cavaliers and their finely attired ladies, with the innumerable others began to flock the streets. The parade which was to be the crowning feature of the evening's enjoyment was scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, but Chief Marshal Harry Hornell and his lieutenants were unable to properly marshal their forces until after that time. The parade moved down McKean avenue from Second street to Ninth, up Ninth to Fallowfield and thence on Fallowfield to Third street. Down Third the long line wended its way and thence down McKean avenue past the judges' reviewing stand.

The police patrol led the line, being followed closely by a drum corps. Then came members of the Charleroi Woman's Suffrage organization in automobiles. There were 82 of them, by actual count and with their yellow sashes and yellow streamers flying made a splendid showing. The Charleroi band marched behind these autos. Then came a number of marchers. The members of the Charleroi Fire Department out for a prize for the biggest number of men in line, led by the Charleroi Firemen drum corps were next in line. Their showing was all the better because of the equipment in line. There were approximately 65 men in line.

The floats were rather numerous and somewhat of a revelation in decorative effects. First came the float of the Woodward Furniture company, it being a reception room on wheels. The float was electrically lighted. Following were numerous other floats. The prize winner finally was the Royal Arcanum, which was arranged in the form of a throne and so decorated as to show what the Royal Arcanum stands for. Three girls, attired in white rode in the float, one representing Virtue, another Mercy and the Third Charity.

The judges committee consisted of Charles Bateman, J. W. Mathias, Howard W. Wilson, D. R. Hornell and Roland W. Brown awarded prizes to the following:

Finest costumed man—First prize, J. L. Silbaugh; second, T. L. Dainty. Finest costumed lady—First, Minnie Schafer; second, Florence Kellogg. Most comically attired man—First, William H. Atkins; second, James McShane. Most comically dressed boy under

CONSTABLES GET INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE HUNTING LAW

Are Told Licenses do Not Give Hunters Right to Hunt on any Man's Land—Fine $20.

The constables made their quarterly returns Monday. There was nothing unusual in these. The court gave the officers some instructions relative to the hunting license law. The court said some inquiries had been made regarding the rights of a license conferred. The court told the constables that the licenses did not give any hunter a permit to go on any man's land, if there were notices posted forbidding hunting on that land, or objections were made by the land owner. Where a trespass was committed on a farm, even though a hunter had a license, where trespass notices were posted, the trespasser was liable to prosecution. If there were no trespass notices up, the land owner's recourse would be by a civil action for damages. The court also said in reply to another inquiry that the law required that the tag, given with a license on which is the license number, be worn in a conspicuous place. Otherwise the hunter is liable to a fine of $20.

NUMEROUS GLASS PLANTS RESUME

More Than 1,200 Workmen Put to Work in Fayette County by Start

FOREIGN ORDERS RECEIVED

More than 1,200 workmen, mostly skilled, resumed their duties in Fayette county glass factories Monday evening after a layoff of six months. The men will receive a three and one half per cent raise in the standard for the year over that of the beginning of last year's operations. A number of improvements have been made at the various plants during their idleness and preparations have been made to run at full capacity.

Orders have been received from South America, England and Australia due to the destruction of the great glass factories in Belgium. Practically all the plants have large orders from these countries and indications point to the most prosperous year in the history of the industry in the county.

The factories closed last May 1 and prior to that time considerable time was lost due to the small market for their product. Glass workers in the county anticipated a great year in this country for the glass industry after the devastation of Belgium and accordingly planned to be ready when the plants resumed.

The men are practically all high paid and the resumption means much for Fayette county. The following plants resumed employing men as follows:

MAN AND WIFE BOTH IN HOSPITAL; MAY DIE

Mrs. McCoy at Monongahela, Her Husband in Charleroi Monessen Hospital—Latter Injured When Run Over by Street Car

In the Charleroi-Monessen hospital in a critical condition from injuries received when run over by a Pittsburgh Railways car is John McCoy, aged 45 years, a miner of Monongahela. In the Memorial hospital at Monongahela McCoy's wife is in a dying condition. Four children ranging in age from 3 to 11 years are being cared for by brothers and sisters of the woman, little realizing what fate may have in store for them.

The McCoy's are Monongahela people. The man is a miner who formerly lived in Midway. After his wife was taken to the hospital at Monongahela

Monday it is stated he took to drink. The supposition is that he boarded a car in the direction of Charleroi or else was turned in this direction. At any rate he was lying asleep along the track near Wickerham stop when the 11:45 car came along. An arm was lying on one of the rails. It was crushed and he was otherwise badly hurt.

McCoy was brought to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital. This morning it was found necessary to amputate his arm. He is in a bad condition. Little report was given out concerning the condition of his wife this morning.

FURTHER EXTENSIONS ARE MADE THOMPSON

Settlement of Uniontown Financier's Affairs Still in Doubt—Thompson Still in New York Trying to Secure Loan.

Another extension was made Monday in the affairs of Josiah V. Thompson, coal operator, when the attorneys representing his creditors gave him until Wednesday to make some financial arrangement in order to prevent suits being filed against him.

Thompson is now in New York trying to raise between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 to satisfy his creditors. There was no confirmation Monday night of the report that he had been successful.

A committee of attorneys representing the Thompson creditors composed of A. F. Cooper, H. L. Robinson and W. M. Cochran, is also in New York. The committee will interview the New York financiers from whom Thompson is trying to secure the loan. Thompson and the committee are expected at Uniontown Wednesday morning.

At the meeting of the bar association Monday afternoon it was reported that Attorney Cooper of the committee had telephoned from New York to Uniontown that by reason of a train delay the committee had been unable to keep appointments with Thompson and the New York financiers and had nothing definite to report.

GUILT PLEAS ENTERED BY FOUR OFFENDERS

Variety of Violations Alleged—One Young Man Forges Check, Another Steals Steamer Rug—Boy Admits He Broke Into Store.

James Zook of Washington, serving a three months' term in jail for desertion, entered a plea of guilty Monday to being the father of a child born to Annie Anderson. The child is about a year old. On the charge growing out of this crime the young man was sentenced to pay the costs, pay the young lady $120 expenses incident to the birth of the child and for its support during the past year, $2 a week for its support for four years and to give bond in the sum of $300 for the faithful compliance with the order. Being a married man there was another charge against him. On this he was sentenced to pay the costs fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for two months in addition to the three he is already serving.

Joseph Walton of Pittsburgh a young man admitted he was guilty of forging the name of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Walton of Donora, and securing $8 on a check. The district attorney also had information that the defendant had forged three other checks. Young Walton was without counsel, but asked to be paroled. He said he was a sign painter had worked for McCreery's in Pittsburgh. He had gone to Donora, he said, had got with some other young men had been drinking and probably that was the reason for doing what he did. The court committed him to Huntingdon.

Ed. Shorters of Washington admitted he had taken a steamer rug belonging to Miss J. M. Hiles at a Washington tuberculosis dispensary. Shorters, after he had taken the rug and it was suspected he had, made efforts to get the matter settled but did not do so. He was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months.

Tony Neston an Italian lad, one of several boys who were arrested for breaking into the Hough hardware store, West Chestnut street, Washington admitted his guilt. The other lads were disposed of in juvenile court, but Tony is past 16 years and not under the jurisdiction of the ju-

BIG VOTE ANTICIPATED TODAY; MUCH SPLITTING IS REPORTED

PREDICTIONS ARE THAT WOMAN SUFFRAGE WILL BE DEFEATED

Sentiment Over Entire State Not Believed Favorable—Sentiment Favorable Locally.

Predictions are being freely made today that the woman suffrage amendment No. 1 will be defeated, though there is a general belief that Washington county will favor it. In Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, chiefly there is a reported feeling against the measure and the same state of affairs holds true in other parts of the state. An observer who is here from the central part of the state, a man who has traveled throughout the entire state this morning said that judging from the existing sentiment the amendment would be defeated. He said, "Women who are leaders for woman suffrage are not themselves confident, and you can't expect others to be. Woman suffrage will be defeated this time, but it is coming surely later."

Locally there is much sentiment in favor of woman suffrage, owing partly to the clean cut campaign which the local committee of which Mrs. J. B. Barth is president has waged.

SIX DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Statements Filed in Various Cases Pending at the County Seat

FOUR ARE FROM CHARLEROI

In the domestic troubles of Oliver B. Michener of North Charleroi, and his wife, Marietta Michener, two libels in divorce are now before the court. Some time since the husband, Oliver B. Michener filed a libel. In that he charged his wife with infidelity and named Clifford B. Blackburn and George Fulmer as corespondents. In an answer filed Mrs. Michener denies the accusations made by her husband. She also filed a petition asking for alimony and counsel fees pending the divorce action. She sets forth that she is without support, that her husband makes $90 a month as a motorman. She asks for $100 counsel fees and $5 a week for support. A rule has been issued on the husband to show cause why the prayer of his wife should not be granted. The wife also filed a divorce action against her husband. In it she charges him with cruel and barbarous treatment. She says he was of a quarrelsome disposition and frequently abused her and beat her; also that he abused the children.

Four other libels in divorce were filed yesterday. Janet B. Hollowood Miller, of Donora, seeks separation

Fully 1,200 Ballots Will be Cast is the General Belief

EX-GOVERNOR TENER HERE

Comes to Cast His Vote—Woman Suffrage Has Bearing in Bringing Out Voters After Rather Quiet Campaign.

Though the campaign has been exceedingly quiet, a large vote is anticipated in Charleroi today. From indications shortly after 1 o'clock the total vote will run to 1,200, if it does not exceed this number. In the first precinct there had been 150 ballots cast at that time and a line of men was in waiting. Former Governor John K. Tener arrived at noon and went to cast his ballot early in the afternoon.

Efforts of the Republican committeemen and all candidates to get out a big vote, the unusual activity here of Democrats and the local fight for borough offices and the campaign waged by the woman suffrage organization for favorable votes on the suffrage amendment all are having their bearing on the question of getting out the vote.

There is considerable splitting of ballots going on, a fact evidenced by the length of time occupied by voters in marking them. From a certain line at the first precinct polling place at the police station of about 10 voters, seven took time enough to vote

BEWARE THE GIGGLING GIRL

At last we have had it doped out right for us. The suspicion that we may have entertained at times, but been afraid to voice because of that ouster thing called civility inherited from long generations of misunderstood ancestors, were well founded. Kipling was gloriously right when he talked about the female of the species, remarks the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Even Father Adam has another look in.
The youth who cries "The woman tempted me," has a proper alibi. A woman teacher herself has said it.
Come suffrage when it may, there is no cause to fear. Man's safety is assured.

Before the American Social Hygienic Conference at Chicago the other day came Dr. Rachelle Yarros of Hull House, that institution of uplift made famous by another woman and gave new light on the eternal feminine, or at least, she put into words of whole-hearted counsel to men and maids the views of others—mostly men—throughout the ages which custom and convention have made us regard as cynicism. Hearken to her message and then let him who dares say women are not progressive.

"Young men, beware of the giggling girl, for she will lead you astray; but don't be afraid of the real sincere flirt for she will inspire you with high ideals."

We have been told to beware of the girl with the changeable eyes;
we have heard the lament of him who said: "My only books were women's looks and folly's all they've taught me;" we can even faintly recollect a warning against the demure, sidelong glance, soft, tender, appealing, but carrying with it untold danger. All wrong, all wrong. It was an inspiration to high ideals—and inspiration, like opportunity, doesn't come any too often. Of course, many a hero has felt all the time that it was inspiration and he was sure he could see the high ideals in the offing which needed only the light-o'-love leading him to them to be realized, no matter how much a stern—and experienced (?)— father might rail or the merciless records of countless breach of promise suits make another picture. Now, with Dr. Rachelle to the rescue all like-fortunates henceforth will be secure. Like the good mentor, this minister to uncertain hearts doesn't point out the trouble and not disclose the remedy. It's up to the girl. Listen:

"We must teach the innocent young woman her power and influence over the young man who comes a-courting her. Such a time in his life is a dangerous period and she has much influence over him for good or evil.
Fathers have singularly failed in helping their boys through this period. Now we women must protect them."

Well, in this age of safety first, who will deny his name is Barkis?

A REPUBLICAN YEAR

This surely is a Republican year. Indications from every section of the country point to a thorough rejuvenitation of Republicanism and a firm determination of the voters to restore to the people all the Republican principles and policies.

Pennsylvania, the center of vast industrial and manufacturing enterprises, is again leading the way with Republican majorities. Pennsylvania's proud position has encouraged and strengthened Republicanism in other states and the Republican party

now faces with courage and confidence a national campaign in which the target policies of the two great parties are in stake.

In an address to the voters at Philadelphia last Friday night Gov. Martin G. Brumbaugh said:

The nation is interesting in a very definite way in this campaign. You know as well as I know that the moment this war is over in foreign lands
we will have an unusual and a remarkable economic situation thrust upon us here in America and never in the history of this country since the Civil War have we so much needed loyal friends of the protective tariff in the congress of the United States as we shall need them when the products of the foreign markets begin to flood our countries and our states and our cities in the near future.

"All your revenue laws, as you well know, originate in the lower house of congress and it is of the utmost importance that this great Republican state of Pennsylvania should behave itself in this coming contest that it will send a solid and an aggressive delegation to that congress to help frame a protective tariff that will be fair to the working people of this great country of ours."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I hear they have an excellent curriculum at this school," said Uncle John,
who was visiting his nephew at college.

"You bet your life we have," replied the nephew enthusiastically.
"It's built of steel and concrete and seats twenty thousand people. Come on over and I'll show it o' you."

When Pat was engaged as a coachman his employer said:

"You know, Pat, I shall expect you to do things by combination. For instance, if I tell you to bring the carriage around at a given time I shall expect the horses with it and driving gloves, etc."

One day his master came to Pat in a hurry, telling him to look sharp and go for a doctor, as his mistress was ill. Pat was gone for a long time.
Upon his return his master grumbled
at him for his delay.

"Sure, they're all here, sorr," said Pat.

"All here!" said the master. "What do you mean?"

"Didn't you tell me to do things by combination?"

"What's that got to do with it?"
asked the master.

"Well," said Pat, "I've got the doctor, the parson and the undertaker."

SHE DESERVES IT IF ANYONE DOES

No Censor There.
An American who was attached to the embassy at Paris tells of a Parisian journalist who holds a strong objection to the notebook, dear to most of his associates.

This newspaper man wears large white cuffs, and on these he jots down such events as appeal to him, with suggestions for his subsequent articles. At first his laundress was much puzzled by these hieroglyphics, but as the time went on she became able to read them and apparently derived much benefit and pleasure therefrom.

One day the journalist received with his laundered garments a slip of paper on which was written:

"Your last washing was very interesting, but we should be glad to have you give us more war news."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Veteran British Sailor.

Baron Fisher, first baron of Kilsnoe, who succeeded Prince Louis of Battenberg as first sea lord of the admiralty, held the same position for six years beginning with 1904. He began his navy career in 1854 and six years later had risen to the post of lieutenant. He is a veteran of the Crimean war, of the China and Egyptian wars, and commanded the indestructible during the bombardment of Alexandria in 1882. During his long service he has held many high offices, and as a sea fighter he is fearless.

The End of Strikes.

One notable effect of the war in England is reflected in the labor world. Though employment is good, the worker has stopped striking. Thus in November only 8,061 workpeople were reported to the board of trade as being involved in labor disputes, as compared with a total of over 55,000 in November last year.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Southern Biscuits.

Sift together two cupsful of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Then rub in a tablespoonful of lard. When the flour looks like meal, stir into it the white of one egg beaten to a stiff froth, and mix with a cupful of milk. Beat with a spoon, then turn out on a floured board and knead very lightly. Roll out about one-fourth of an inch thick, brush with melted butter and fold. Press together lightly, but do not roll again. Cut in small rounds and bake in a very quick oven.

Codfish and Cheese.

Soak a pound of codfish six hours in tepid water, then let it come to a boil. When cold, pick into flakes with a fork and season with pepper. Heat a cupful of milk to a boil, stir into it a teaspoonful of butter rolled in two of prepared flour. Mix with the picked fish and pour into a baking dish. Strew grated cheese thickly on top and bake in a quick oven to a delicate brown. It is yet nicer if you add a raw egg before cooking it. Something real new.

BIG VOTE ANTICIPATED

for particular men, rather than by party, indicating splitting of tickets. This might be slightly over the average however; still it demonstrates that there is more than a little splitting. Part of this is due to the activity of S. L. Woodward, candidate for sheriff and his friends as well as to the desire of many Charleroi people to vote for A. P. Barnum, Democrat, with John O. Watson, Republican for commissioner. There is much splitting also on the local tickets.

Legends of History.

William Tell was a myth. Coriolanus never allowed his mother to interfere for Rome. The duke of Wellington never uttered the famous words, "Up guards, and at them!"

Alfred never allowed the cakes to burn nor ventured into the Danish camp disguised as a minstrel.

Fair Rosamund was not poisoned by Queen Eleanor but died in the odor of sanctity in the convent of Godstow.

Charles Kingsley gave up his chair of modern history at Oxford because he said he considered history "largely a lie."

Chemists have proved that vinegar will not dissolve pearls or cleave rocks, in spite of the fabled exploits of Cleopatra and Hannibal.

The siege of Troy is largely a myth, even according to Homer's own account. Helen must have been sixty years old when Paris fell in love with her.

The number of Xerxes' army has been grossly exaggerated and it was not stopped at Thermopylae by 300 Spartans, but by 7,000, or even, as some authors compute, 12,000.

Philip VI flying from the field of Crecy and challenged later before the gates of the castle of Elonois, did not cry out "It is the fortune of France." What he really said was "Open, open; it is the unfortunate king of France."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Breast of Lamb.

About two and one-half pounds of breast of lamb, boiled tender in salted water, takes about two hours or a little longer to cook. Have what vegetables you like and thicken the broth for gravy. If there should be enough meat left chop and season and mold in a small, deep dish and put a weight on it. It will cut in nice thin slices for tea.

Dread Year of the Tiger.

The Year of the Tiger—1914 was so called in the Japanese calendar—forecast calamity in the prophecies of that people. The Japan Chronicle notes that the ancient superstition is confirmed by the European war, beside which the volcanic eruption at Vesuvius was of trifling consequence.

CAN'T LOSE HAIR

Twenty Years from Today a Bald-headed Man will be an Unusual Sight. One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Mildredina Hair Remedy, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, spitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and warty years from now a bald head will be a rarity." Sample sent for 10c to pay postage. Mail orders filled by Mildred Louise Co., Boston, Mass.

EXCEPTIONS ARE FILED TO NORMAL SCHOOL BOND

Dr. C. W. Yarnall, of California, filed exceptions to a bond filed by the Southwestern State Normal school at California, to secure damages that may be incurred by the taking of certain lands adjoining the normal school purposes. The land to be taken is that which was a part of the Morgan plan, a tract borrowed over which certain streets and alleys were laid out. The school at present under reconstructed conditions, uses the land for an athletic field. The school is proceeding to take this land under a late act of assembly which gives the normal schools the power to take land by condemnation proceeding. The opposition of Dr. Yarnall to the present action recalls a suit disposed of in the local courts several years ago, in which the normal school was involved. The school had erected a laundry and the claim of Dr. Yarnall was that it encroached upon one of the thoroughfares of his plan. The streets and alleys in question do not connect up with any other thoroughfares. In the former action Dr. Yarnall won and the school had to vacate the land in question. In his exceptions to the bond filed in the present suit Dr. Yarnall says it is insufficient and will not cover the damage done. The right of the school to proceed under the act that they are proceeding is also questioned. Dr. Yarnall owns property in the plan that is involved.

from Clarence C. Miller. Desertion is alleged. They were married September 29, 1903 at Donora. During the time they lived together they resided at Charleroi, Monessen, Uniontown, Donora and finally Braddock. It was while living at Braddock that she alleges he deserted her.

J. F. Richmond of Washington, in seeking a divorce, charges his wife, Carrie L. Richmond, with desertion. They were married December 23, 1893, and lived together until September 26, 1913.

Ursula Skrockene, a native of Russia, in her action against John Skrockene, seeks separation on the grounds of desertion. They were married in Russia on August 8, 1897. They came to America in May of 1910 and lived at Donora. He left her in 1913 and she heard he was in Brooklyn, N. Y.

John Hidek and Frances Hidek were married in Austria, Hungary, in 1899. He afterwards came to America and lives at Charleroi. His wife was left behind in the old country. He now charges her with infidelity, the offenses having been committed in the old country.

In the divorce suit of Eliza Hixenbaugh against Earl M. Hixenbaugh, the testimony has been filed. They were married August 21, 1902. They lived for six months after their marriage with his parents. She says they arranged to go to housekeeping, but he failed to secure any place and finally in 1903 left her. She now lives in Carroll township.

Better Babies.

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast and taken firm hold of American Mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.

GRAND JURY BEGINS ITS INVESTIGATIONS

The grand jury for the November term of criminal court was convened Monday afternoon. They considered the cases listed for Monday and then adjourned until Wednesday morning at 9:15 o'clock. Judge R. W. Brown delivered to the jurors the usual charge as to the law and the method of handling cases that come before them. U. Grant Mounger of Washington was named as foreman. G. U. Shaw, wholesale liquor dealer of 826 Ohio street, Pittsburgh, was indicted by the grand jury for selling liquor without license. An array of witnesses were present. Several agents for the defendant, heretofore operating in this county, last term of court entered pleas of guilty and paid fines and costs into the county treasury. It will be recalled that at the time County Detective F. H. Mitchell went to arrest Shaw that he made his escape from his place of business. He asked permission to go into his office to call up on the phone to arrange for bail. He managed to slip out a back way. A few days later he arranged for bail through a Pittsburgh alderman.

These bills were returned yesterday:

Com. vs. Frank Briggs, larceny. W. H. Clements, prosecutor.

Com. vs. Lawrence Stasu, assault and battery and pointing firearms. John Williams, prosecutor.

Com. vs. G. C. Shaw, selling liquor without license. F. H. Mitchell, prosecutor.

venile court. His counsel made a plea for him, stating that the boy's father was disabled and unable to work and the lad was the support of the family. He worked at the glass house. It was stated he had not been in trouble before. The court directed the district attorney to investigate the boy's home conditions, etc., with the idea of granting the boy a parole.
